FRIDAY, March 11. Wall street persists in misconstruing both th purpose and effect of the policy of the Govern ment in strengthening the defences of the n tion. Influenced largely by the adroit circulated views of a few bear operator and by the alarming reports emanating from the speculative contingent at Was ington, the Stock Exchange community r gards the present long delayed prepar tions to protect the country, to maintain i dignity, and, if necessary, to enforce its just claim as equivalent to a declaration of wat That an increase in strength and a substantia manifestation of force are the surest guarantee against bostilities appears to be absolutely gnored. In consequence nearly every on is afraid to buy securities, and the marke bears, who are as successful in depressing prices as if the ravaging of our Atlantic ses coast by a foreign power were an immediat probability instead of an extremely remote pos sibility. The patrons of the Stock Exchange also seem to leave out of their calculations th wide difference between a nation with pract cally unlimited credit and resources all kinds and one that is virtuall bankrupt and seriously impaired physicall by protracted military operations. The onl reasonable ground for apprehension is tha some misguided fanatic may precipitate a sit nation which the Spanish Government, as well as that of the United States, would deplore This possibility, among other things, has doubt less influenced the Administration in adoptin its present programme. The susceptibility of the Street, as well as the degree of the tension it is suffering under, were demonstrated again to-day by a continuous and material decline in prices. The transactions were not larger than the recent daily average nor was the liquidation extensive. There was however, a constant dribbling of long stock presumably by comparatively small specula tive holders, which was sufficient to en courage the advocates of lower prices to redouble their efforts to break the market. Those efforts, judging from the bor-rowing demand for stocks, resulted in a further increase in the short interest. It has become exceedingly fashionable now to sell stocks for short account, and many people who never be-fore indulged in that form of gambling find reasons that justify them in taking that exceed-ingly fascinating risk. This circumstance, toether with the liquidation that has taken place has unquestionably reduced the amount of stocks that the majority of brokers are carrying very materially. There are no indications that Eu rope has disposed of any important portion of the stocks bought within the last few weeks nor that domestic investors who increased their boldings at the recent decline are disposed to throw them over. The purchasers referred to being beyond the reach of calls for "more margin," are probably relying upon the discretion and ability of the Government and also upor internal conditions that would ordinarily stimulate aggressive buying of securities. Rarely, if ever, in the history of the Stock Exchange have domestic developments been ignored as they are now. General business is active and will be further stimulated by the dis bursement of at least a part of the $50,000,000 emergency appropriation by Congress. Prices of staple commodities continue to advance, and the most important product, namely, wheat, is moving out of the country in large quantities at higher prices than have ruled for some years past. Total exports are constantly increasing over last year, and they are also largely in excess of imports. Europe is at last beginning to pay its deferred indebtedness to the United States, which is chiefly in the form of long sterling bills which are now maturing for the second time. This accounts for the heavy imports of gold. Further engagements of specie for shipment to this country were reported to-day, aggregating $1,016,000, and making the total move ment $16,175,000. The attempt of the Bank of France to minimize the drafts upon it for gold to be shipped to this centre by raising its price for American eagles has temporarily shifted the withdrawals to the Bank of England, but it is possible that the firstnamed institution will realize that its policy will ultimately prove futile and will be reason able in assisting its clients to discharge their obligations to this country. When business was resumed on the Stock Exchange this morning the prices for American securities in London foreshadowed a rally, but orders to sell stocks had apparently accumulated overnight, and were in excess of the demands from foreign arbitrage houses. Moreover, there was aggressive selling for short ac count. The early decline gave character to the entire day's business, and the market as a whole was heavy throughout. Snear Refining, the Granger stocks, Manhattan Railway, Northern Pacific preferred, Union Pacific preferred, People's Gas, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, American Tobacco, Louisville and Nashwille, and New York Central received note worthy attention and sustained net losses averaging a point lower than yesterday. The greatest net declines were in a few of the socalled inactive stocks, a list that to-day included Metropolitan Street Railway, M., K. and T. preferred, and Chesapeake and Ohio. The de-cision in the Rapid Transit case was not without effect upon the market for the local trac tion stocks. Of news having an unfavorable bearing upon the value of any of the securities dealt in on the Exchange there was not any, yet the closing was heavy at about the lowest prices.

The local movements of money this week are described by the New York News Bureau as follows: "The banks report that there has been a scattering call for money from interior institutions since Monday, and that the not amount sent out has probably been in excess of $2,500,000, which smoont has been a little more than offset by the receipts of gold from abroad. Therefore interest centres in the operations of the banks at the Treasury, where they have lost $1,250,000. The New York Sub-Treasury's regular daily reports indicate for the full week as follows: Total receipts, $16,400,000, including $2,000,000 from other department offices; total payments, $16,000,000, including $3,000,000 to other offices."

Lassord and Robbed on Chicago's Lover.

CHICAGO, March 11.-Three negro highwaymen used a lasso on Aibert Johnson of Aurora, Ill., before daylight this morning. He was passing through the most disreputable part of the levee, known as Custom House place, when the negroes threw the noose over his head and choked him into unconsciousness. They then robbed him all his money, his watch, and a commutation railroad ticket. He will keep a portion of the noose, which was left around his neck, as a souvenir of his visit to Chicago.
